POLICY DIRECTIVE

Aboriginal Workforce Composition

POLICY STATEMENT

NSW Health is committed to supporting the growth and development of the NSW Health Aboriginal workforce. It will continue to actively contribute to the success of the Aboriginal workforce targets and outcomes, including small, specialist organisations, teams and services.

SUMMARY OF POLICY REQUIREMENTS

This Policy Directive sets out the Aboriginal workforce priorities for all NSW Health organisations for the period 2021-2026.

This Policy Directive provides direction to NSW Health to deliver against six key priority areas, meet minimum Aboriginal workforce representation targets, and to report against key performance indicators (KPI).

All NSW Health organisations must ensure that the minimum targets set within this Policy are met, which are based on legislative documents, frameworks and strategies. They must be communicated and applied to all teams, levels and occupations (clinical and non-clinical) within their NSW Health organisation.

NSW Health organisations must acknowledge and ensure there is transparency and delineation of responsibility across the key priority areas and KPIs that will be reported against for their NSW Health organisation.

NSW Health organisations must continue to set their local targets above the minimum targets stated in this Policy Directive, based on local Aboriginal populations and specific Aboriginal health service needs. This includes not only NSW Health organisations servicing regional areas with higher Aboriginal population proportionally, but also NSW Health organisations in the broader Sydney metropolitan area where approximately a third of the Aboriginal population of NSW live and is inclusive of local government areas with large Aboriginal community populations and suburbs with large Aboriginal communities.

Annual reports must be submitted to the NSW Ministry of Health, after each financial year on the KPI outcomes by NSW Health organisations, including the progress on stipulated representative target.

Reports and outcomes will be reviewed, and the Aboriginal Workforce Strategic Steering Committee will provide comment on needed actions to promote succession of the KPI/targets if outcomes are determined to be under delivered or underperformed against across NSW Health.

1. BACKGROUND

NSW Health has adopted the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Workforce Strategic Framework and Implementation Plan 2021-2031 (National Plan), including the target 3.43% Aboriginal representation across all occupations and salary bands. The NSW Public Service Commission's Aboriginal Employment Strategy 2019-2025 is broadly reflective of the purpose and intent of the national plan.

Achieving the overarching target of 3.43% across all roles (clinical and non-clinical) and all levels, inclusive of management and executive level roles, by 2031 will be staged through incremental targets. NSW Health will achieve 3.43% Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workforce minimum representation by:

- 2025 - 3.10%
- 2028 - 3.30%
- 2031 - 3.43%.

NSW Health organisations will bear the responsibility of setting their own targets above the minimum, based on the local needs of Aboriginal communities.

Where the local Aboriginal workforce is comprised of greater than 3.43%, NSW Health organisations must establish targets that, at a minimum, meet parity with the local Aboriginal population rate for the purpose of representation across the workforce.

NSW Health has outlined key priorities and actions to build on previous attempts to increase the Aboriginal workforce. The implementation of these priorities and actions will lead to a number of key outcomes being achieved to assist in growing a strong and culturally supported Aboriginal workforce.

Achieving these outcomes will require effective resource allocation, sustainable partnerships with Aboriginal people and relevant organisations, and cooperative efforts and leadership at all levels of government and across the health service delivery and education sectors.

1.1. About this document

This Policy Directive provides direction to all NSW Health organisations to grow and develop their Aboriginal Workforce. It sets out the Aboriginal workforce development priorities, targets and key performance indicators for NSW Health for the period 2021-2026.

1.2. Key definitions

Aboriginal	Collective reference to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people per NSW Health is that Aboriginal people are the original inhabitants of NSW (see NSW Health Policy Directive Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples – Preferred Terminology to be Used (PD2005_319) and NSW Health Guideline Communicating Positively: A Guide to Appropriate Aboriginal Terminology (GL2019_008)). “Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person means a person who <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) is a member of either or both the Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander race of Australia, and (b) identifies as an Aboriginal person, and (c) is accepted by the Aboriginal community as an Aboriginal person.”
Aboriginal Identified Roles	Identified roles are those in which Aboriginality is a genuine occupational qualification. Typically, such roles work directly with Aboriginal people and are involved in developing and/or delivering services and programs which have an impact on Aboriginal people and/or involve dealing with Aboriginal communities.
Aboriginal Workforce	Refers to the Aboriginal staff members in NSW Health services, which for general reporting purposes reflects only those who choose to self-identify within the StaffLink system, however at times may also be reflected through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identified Aboriginal Health Worker and Aboriginal Health Practitioner roles • Other Identified positions, pathways or programs.
Cultural Capabilities	The skills, knowledge, and behaviours that are required to plan, support, improve and deliver services in a culturally respectful and appropriate manner.

3. REPORTING ON KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

To be able to achieve the 6 key priority areas/ outcomes, key performance indicators (KPI) will be reported against annually to measure the progress of implementation (see Section 2.6 Key Priority Area 6.2).

The NSW Ministry of Health will collect and report on the following KPIs from each NSW Health organisation:

1. Aboriginal employees against total employees. Progress towards the target of minimum 3.43% by 2031. Aboriginal representation at all salary levels and occupations across the Aboriginal health workforce in NSW is to be reported by Local Health Districts, Specialty Health Networks and other NSW Health organisations on incremental targets.
2. Percentage of Aboriginal workforce by occupation.
3. Percentage of Aboriginal workforce by salary level (male / female / other).
4. Aboriginal recruitment entries and exits to NSW Health.
5. Number of Aboriginal cadetships.
6. Number of Aboriginal traineeships – school-based trainees.
7. Development of a local Aboriginal Workforce Strategy Implementation Plan.
8. Establishing an Aboriginal Employment Coordinator (or a Manager of Aboriginal Workforce Development). This is to be developed as annual numerical targets in the NSW Health organisation Service Agreement, also refer to the associated Information Bulletin that will be published on a yearly basis.
9. Mandatory training target completion rates of the Aboriginal Cultural Training Respecting the Difference. The NSW Health Policy Directive Aboriginal Cultural Training – Respecting the Difference (PD2022_028) stipulates a 90% target.
10. Establishing Aboriginal Health Practitioners. This is to be developed as annual numerical targets in the relevant NSW Health organisation level Service Agreement, refer to the associated Information Bulletin that will be published on a yearly basis.

Annual reports and feedback on outcomes will be reported to the Deputy Secretaries, Chief Executives, and other relevant stakeholders by the Aboriginal Workforce Strategic Steering Committee.
