INFORMATION BULLETIN

NSW HOSPITAL PEER GROUPS 2016

PURPOSE

The purpose of this Information Bulletin is to correct allocations and naming in the NSW Hospital Peer Group List of the NSW Hospital Peer Groups 2014 (Information Bulletin IB2014_070). This Information Bulletin recapitulates the revised hospital peer group classification criteria and advises the allocation of hospitals to those peer groups.

KEY INFORMATION

The aim of peer grouping is to identify hospitals with similar characteristics, predominantly for comparative reporting and service planning. The previous major review of the NSW hospital peer groups was undertaken in May 2009 with a smaller-scale review undertaken in 2011 specifically to review the grouping of the B Major Hospitals group.

The latest review undertaken in 2013 (finalised 2014) was tasked to create a generic set of hospital peer groups that provide a valid basis for comparing hospitals for the majority of analytical and reporting requirements.

The NSW Admitted Patient Data Collection for 2011-12 was analysed for reviewing the peer groups. 2010-11 data was also analysed when it was relevant to look at the stability of a particular hospital's activity over time and the role delineation of emergency departments and intensive care units were also used as reference data.

In addition to the review of the overall peer group structure, assignments of individual hospitals to groups were also reviewed, in total 13 hospitals were re-assigned to a different peer group.

The review has resulted in:

- Changes to the criteria for some of the peer groups
- Splitting of one group (the B group) into two subgroups
- Deletion of a group (D2).

It is recognised that there may be a need for peer grouping based on specific specialties (e.g. maternity, orthopaedics, neurosurgery, cardiology) however, the review focussed on peer grouping at the whole-of-hospital level.

NSW Hospitals 2014 Peer Group Classification

The new peer group classification was applied from 1 October 2014. Table 1 shows the NSW hospital peer groups and the criteria used for assigning hospitals to them. Changes to NSW hospital peer groups since the 2011 review are represented in bold.

Table 1 – NSW peer groups for public hospitals classifications

Peer group	Criteria for grouping
A1 - Principal referral	Greater than 35,000 acute weighted separations AND offering highly specialised services (such as bone marrow and other specialised transplants, severe burn injury, major trauma)

A2 - Paediatric specialist	Specialist paediatric role
A3 - Ungrouped acute – tertiary referral	Specialist acute role not suitable for any other role-based group and tertiary referral status
B1 – Major hospitals group 1	35,000 or less but greater than 17,000 acute weighted separations AND availability of one or more specialist services requiring specific infrastructure (such as cardiac catheterisation, comprehensive cancer centre, in-centre dialysis and medical radiation imaging) OR average acute NWAU per separation of 1.25 or greater
B2 - Major hospitals group 2	35,000 or less but greater than 10,000 acute weighted separations AND no specialist services requiring specific infrastructure OR average acute NWAU per separation less than 1.25
C1 – District group 1	10,000 or less but greater than 4,000 acute weighted separations
C2 – District group 2	4,000 or less acute weighted separations but greater than 2,000 acute separations
D1a – Community with surgery	2,000 or less acute separations but greater than 200 total separations AND more than 2 per cent surgery (based on DRG status)
D1b – Community without surgery	2,000 or less acute separations AND less than 2 per cent surgery (based on DRG status), OR Less than 200 total separations
D2 - Community non-acute	Deleted
E – Ungrouped acute – other	Specialist acute role not suitable for any other role-based group and non-tertiary referral status
F1 – Psychiatric	Designated psychiatric facility
F2 – Nursing home	Nursing home
F3 – Multi-purpose service	Multi-purpose service, including associated aged care entity
F4 – Sub-acute	75 per cent or more general (mixed) sub- and non-acute activity
F5 – Palliative care	Designated palliative care facility
F6 – Rehabilitation	Designated rehabilitation facility
F7 – Mothercraft	Mothercraft service
F8 – Other ungrouped	Other sub- and non-acute not able to be grouped to any other category
F9 – Dialysis services	Dialysis services

In addition to the review of the overall peer group structure, assignments of individual hospitals to groups were also reviewed. Some changes to the assignment of individual hospitals were as a result of changes to the peer group structure (i.e. the addition or deletion of peer groups). Others were as a result of the facility previously not being grouped or misclassified (for role-based assignments), or where there was a change in the facility's activity/role since the 2009 or 2011 reviews. Table 2 shows NSW Hospitals that were re-assigned and the rationale.

Table 2 – 2014 Re-assignment of Hospitals to peer groups, and rationale

Hospital	2011 peer group	2013 peer group	Rationale
Bankstown	Unclear	A1 Principal referral hospital	Lower complexity compared with other A1 hospitals; profile more similar to large major metropolitan hospitals. However, the LHD has argued that the fact that non-admitted data was not used for the review, and the contribution of clinical networks to the complexity of facilities was not examined, both of which would show a different profile for this hospital. On this basis, it was decided by the Ministry to group this hospital to A1 until the next review where these other factors will be considered.
Hawkesbury District Health Service	N/A	TBD	This facility is privately owned / operated, but contracted to provide services to public patients. Options for its allocation to a peer group have not been examined in this review, although it is most likely to align the C2 profile of hospitals. It is recommended that the statistics for this hospital be examined for its appropriate placement, and that it be included as part of the comparative reporting intended by the hospital peer grouping.
Bellinger River	C2 District group 2	D1a Community acute with surgery	Less than 2,000 acute separations per annum AND more than 2% surgery.
Bulli	C2 District group 2	F4 Sub acute	Illawarra and Shoalhaven LHD have advised that it intends to move the ENT surgery performed at this hospital to Wollongong Hospital in the next 12 months. This will mean that Bulli will be predominantly providing sub- and non-acute services, and will better meet the criteria for F4 Sub- acute.
Tumut	C2 District group 2	D1a Community with surgery	Less than 2,000 acute separations per annum AND more than 2% surgery.
Camden	C2 District group 2	D1b Community without surgery	Less than 2,000 acute separations per annum AND less than 2% surgery.
Central Coast Transitional Care Beds	Not grouped	F8 Ungrouped other	There are no comparative facilities to this across the state at this time.
Ballina Transitional Care Beds	Not grouped	F8 Ungrouped other	This is a six-bed inpatient unit which provides short term inpatient care to optimise the functioning and independence of older people following a hospital stay. Therefore, it is an admitted (and not a virtual) unit. However, there are no similar units in NSW for comparative purposes.
NSCCAHS Acute and Post-acute Centre	D1b Community acute w/o surgery	F8 Ungrouped other	There are no comparative facilities to this across the state at this time.
Lourdes Dubbo	F2 – Nursing home	F4 Sub-acute facility	Had been misclassified as a residential aged care facility. Is actually a sub-acute facility.

Hospital	2011 peer group	2013 peer group	Rationale
Manilla Multi-Purpose Service	D2 Community non-acute	F3 Multi-purpose service	Has become a multi-purpose service.
Werris Creek Multi-Purpose Service	D2 Community non-acute	F3 Multi-purpose service	Has become a multi-purpose service.
Balranald Multi-Purpose Service	D2 Community non-acute	F3 Multi-purpose service	Has become a multi-purpose service.
