REMUNERATION RATES FOR FEE-FOR-SERVICE VISITING MEDICAL OFFICERS

PURPOSE

The purpose of this Information Bulletin is to provide information on changes that applies to remuneration under fee-for-service contracts for visiting medical officers for services rendered on or after 1 July 2021.

KEY INFORMATION

Fee-for-Service remuneration now incorporates wages policy increases and applies to the fees in the Commonwealth Medical Benefits Schedule as at 30 June 2018 and without indexation adjustments arising from the phasing in of indexation from 1 July 2018.

The increases will be as follows:

Period from	Increase	Cumulative Increase
1 July 2021	2.5%	13.1408%

The remuneration increase is in lieu of and not in addition to the indexation of the medical benefits schedule item fees.

A further Information Bulletin will be issued in the future to cover remuneration from 1 July 2022.

NSW Health organisations must ensure

That services provided under the visiting medical officers service contracts are provided personally by the contracted visiting medical officer and are not sub-contracted out of performance by another practitioner

Split contracts in respect of services to be provided at the one facility are only offered in circumstances outlined in NSW Health Policy Directive Visiting Practitioner Appointments in the NSW Public Health System (PD2016_052)

Note that this Information Bulletin does not apply to Visiting Medical Officers who are:

- remunerated under the arrangements set by the Rural Doctors' Settlement Package
- appointed as a pathologist, or
- appointed as a radiologist.

Chief Executives are accountable for ensuring that the remuneration authorised in the Information Bulletin, or otherwise specifically approved by the NSW Ministry of Health, is paid to visiting medical officers.

Any enquiries concerning this Information Bulletin should be directed to the human resources or medical administration personnel in the relevant NSW Health organisation. Only human resources or medical administration personnel are to directly contact the NSW Ministry of Health.
